COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD BEGINS TALKS ON PLAN; SECRET SESSION

Lloyd E. Crouse, Littlestown, was re-elected for another one-year term as treasurer of the Adams County School Board at a meeting Wednesday evening at an unannounced meeting place.

Site Is Secret
County Superintendent J. Floyd Slaybaugh refused Wednesday night and again this morning to reveal the location of the meeting. Originally he had announced that the group would meet at a dinner session at York, Wednesday night he said they had "eaten out" but returned to the county to hold the meeting because they were instructed by their attorney that there was a possibility that any action taken outside the county might be illegal.

Information received this morning elsewhere indicated the meeting was held in the Methodist Church "because of the large number present." There was no announcement identifying the additional persons in attendance. The board dined, according to reliable information, at the Peace Light Inn.

Slaybaugh said this morning the county board "ate out and met out" but would not say (Continued on Page 3)

WILL DISSOLVE FRUIT RESEARCH "LAB" COMPANY

The South Mountain Fruit Research Laboratories, Inc., a non-profit corporation set up in 1948 by about 40 fruit growers to provide better fruit laboratory facilities at Arendtsville, is to pass out of existence.

M. E. Knouse, chairman of the non-profit organization, said today that Pennsylvania State College has decided to take over the laboratories and has posted $24,000 with the Gettysburg National Bank as trustee to pay off the remainder of the $30,000 mortgage bonds issued originally to purchase land and property at Arendtsville for the laboratories.

With the bonds redeemed, the corporation will have no further reason for existence and the Adams County Court will be asked to dissolve the organization.

Services "Invaluable"

In 1948 when it became necessary to find new quarters for the Penn State scientists who for years have been carrying on experimental work in fruit at Arendtsville, State College did not have the money to buy new quarters for the laboratory.

Fruit growers from Adams, Cumberland, Franklin and York Counties banded together to establish the South Mountain Fruit Research Laboratories to permit the scientists (Continued on Page 8)

Vinson Calls Supreme Court Back For Special Session After Douglas Had Saved Rosenbergs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court met at 11:12 a. m. (EST) today in an extraordinary session which will decide whether atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg must go to the electric chair tonight.

All nine justices were present. Chief Justice Vinson called the court together to consider a petition by Atty. Gen. Brownell that they override the action yesterday of Justice William O. Douglas in granting a stay of execution to the husband and wife spy team.

Sets Precedent
In all its history, the court never before had convened in special session for such a purpose.

If a majority agrees to overrule Douglas, the condemned atom spies could be put to death at Sing Sing prison at 10 p. m. (EST) tonight as had been scheduled before Douglas issued his stay order or at any time before Saturday midnight.

Court's Biggest Crowd
The justices met in closed conference for 15 minutes before the start of the public session. The momentous gathering at (Continued on Page 2)

MARYLAND MAN DIES INSTANTLY IN AUTO CRASH

A 22-year-old Taneytown man was killed instantly only a mile from his home enroute there from his employment in Hanover at 6:55 o'clock this morning, when his car struck a truck almost head-on between Littlestown and Taneytown.

Maryland state police said a sedan operated by Harold Albert Brown, Frederick St., Taneytown, collided with a truck driven by George Washington Weaver, 23, also of Taneytown, after narrowly missing a car operated by Charles T. Humpert, of Taneytown.

The left front and side of Brown's car struck the left of the truck, ripped under the platform body and sheared off the rear dual wheels. The car then continued down the road. Brown was thrown onto the pavement about 50 feet south of the truck and the car went another 50 feet before it stopped, Maryland police said.

Pinned In Truck Cab

Brown suffered a compound fracture of the skull and numerous other injuries. The impact turned the truck over on its side, and Weaver was pinned in the smashed cab. It was necessary to cut off one shoe before he could be pulled out of the vehicle. He was treated by Dr. M. C. McBaugh, Taneytown, for a sprained shoulder, laceration of the (Continued on Page 3)

COUNTY BANKS' DEPOSIT GAIN LEADS DISTRICT

Adams County banks, on the average, pay higher rates of interest on time deposits and showed a higher gain in deposits than the average of the 600 county banks in the third district of the Federal Reserve system, Edward A. Aff, assistant cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, told the Adams County Bankers Association at its meeting Wednesday evening at Zion Evangelical Reformed Church, Arendtsville.

A statement distributed by Aff to the bankers showed the 11 Federal Reserve member banks in the county to have increased their assets from 38.5 million dollars as of December 31, 1951, to 41.4 million dollars by December 31, 1952, or an increase of 7.3 per cent during the year, as compared to a gain of 4.6 per cent for the average of the banks in the third district which includes two-thirds of Pennsylvania, all of Delaware and part of New Jersey. Aff commented it looks like money is coming into Adams County from somewhere.

Lead In Loans

The statement showed Adams County banks to have more money out on loan, in proportion to total assets, than is the average for the third district. The Adams banks have 16.4 per cent of their assets in cash, 35.2 per cent in U. S. government securities, 5.8 per cent in other securities, 41.4 per cent (Continued on Page 4)

ARMY WORMS DISCOVERED IN ADAMS COUNTY

Army worms have appeared in Adams County, Assistant County Agent Fred H. Attinger announced today. The first infestation was located Wednesday at the farm of Philip Redding, Littlestown R. 2, near Littlestown.

Attinger said the worms, which are a larval state of a moth, were present by the thousands in a corn field at Redding's farm and had already caused extensive damage to the field.

This year may mark one of the years when the worms appear in great numbers, and wipe out entire fields "practically overnight," Attinger said. An infestation in Chester County has already caused heavy damage.

No special entertainment is necessary, Dean W. E. Tilberg, chairman of the committee, said: "These men, for the most part, have been away from home for some time. They will enjoy just being with you, eating what you eat. They are well fed at Indiantown Gap, but there is always a psychological difference between army food and 'home cooking'."

128 Americans Are Burned To Death When Giant Globemaster Crashes In Flames Near Tokyo

By The Associated Press

TOKYO (AP)—A giant C124 Globemaster pinwheel out of the murky sky near Tokyo today and crashed in flames carrying at least 128 out of 130 Americans to their deaths in history's worst air disaster.

The Air Force said 55 bodies had been identified and the death toll could be 127 or 130. The huge double-deck transport was carrying 120 to 123 Army engineers and airmen back to battle stations in Korea. The plane had a crew of seven. The Globemaster crashed seconds after taking off from the U. S. Air Base at Tachikawa, 25 miles west of Tokyo.

Defiant Revolt Against Allies May Balk Plans For Truce Pact

SEOUL, Friday, June 19 (AP)—North Korean anti-Red prisoners clashed today in a bloody battle with U. S. Marines and soldiers at an Allied prison camp near Inchon.

First fragmentary reports said about 100 prisoners may have been killed in the pre-dawn fighting. Official confirmation was lacking.

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO (AP)—South Korea revolted against the U. N. Command and its armistice terms today, freeing some 25,000 anti-Red Korean prisoners and announcing immediate steps to enlist most of them in its own army.

President Syngman Rhee's arbitrary order turned South Korea's anti-truce threats into direct action, catching his allies flat-footed and leaving them sharply resentful.

What effect it would have on the truce—now apparently only an arm's reach away—was not known. No official source would speculate.

In Seoul, a reliable source indicated that Rhee has sent a flat "no" to President Eisenhower's June 6 appeal for South Korea to accept the armistice. The source quoted Rhee as telling Eisenhower that South Korea would perish under the truce terms.

Guards Turn Back

South Korean guards in four camps turned their backs as the prisoners fled into the morning darkness.

Small bands of Americans tried vainly to stop the exodus. A few hours later, a high South Korean military authority said most of the prisoners would be enlisted in the ROK army. That could add about two divisions to the 16-division ROK force.

He indicated that prisoners from two camps—Namsan and Sangmudal—went to nearby ROK military training centers with the aid of South Korean military personnel immediately after fleeing from the camps.

An American officer said many ROK officers from the prison camps fled with the prisoners.

Meanwhile, the U. N. Command said it handed the Reds a letter at Panmunjom reporting the ROK guards had been replaced by U. S. troops and that every effort is being made to recapture the 24,000 prisoners still loose.

Asks Civilian Help

There were reports that the prisoners were being taken into private homes and farms, or hiding in the hills. Rhee had urged all civilians to help the prisoners.

The U. N. prisoner command disclosed that one ROK guard was killed in the breakout at the camp near Sangmudal, but gave no details. No other Allied casualties were reported.

Rhee explained his sudden break in a statement:

"The reason why I did this without full consultation with the U. N. Command and other authorities concerned is too obvious to explain . . .

"According to the Geneva Convention and . . . principles of human right . . . the prisoners should have been released long before."

The firemen need a minimum of 40 uniformed marchers to be eligible to win a parade prize. They expect to take one piece of apparatus, leaving the fire engine house at noon. The parade is at 2:30 o'clock.

DECIDE NEXT WEEK ON COPS' PAY INCREASE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Vice chairman Edward Dunn (R-Northumberland) of the House Third Class Cities Committee said today a meeting may be held next week to decide the fate of a bill boosting the salary of all police in third class cities by $300 a year.

Dunn said he could make no predictions on what might happen to the bill in committee since there has been little discussion of it so far.

"It's an uncertain issue, for I believe that most of our third class cities lack the cash to finance the increase," he added.

The bill was introduced by Rep. John C. Kubacki (D-Berks) on June 9 and referred for study to the Third Class Cities Committee headed by Rep. John J. Mikula (R-Luzerne). Mikula could not be reached for comment.

Dunn said the measure had the support of the Pennsylvania Fraternal Order of Police.

It is opposed, however, by the League of Third Class Cities, an organization including representatives of all 47 Pennsylvania cities in that category.

"Let's hope it never gets out of committee," Walter Greenwood, Coatesville, executive director of the league, told a newsmen.

He, too, cited the lack of funds in some cities and compared the police pay increase bill to other recent laws which have enabled the state to dictate to local governments on working conditions of police and firemen.

Third class city police and firemen now must be given a two-week vacation with pay and two weeks sick leave per year with a maximum of six weeks. This portion of state law, however, does not apply to other city employees.

WOMAN IS KILLED

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Mary I. Bert, 26, was killed today in a collision of her automobile with another car at a rural road intersection. She was thrown from her car by the impact. SURVEYORS Wednesday began work at the site of the $372,000 New Oxford elementary school preparatory to construction by the Allen F. Feiser Co. of Taneytown. The building is to be completed in them for the opening of school in September 1954. Actual construction work is expected to begin in "the very near future" school officials said.

ORGANIZE AIR RAID SPOTTERS

Crosby W. Hartzell, chief observer for the county's Ground Observer Corps, accompanied by Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver, spent Wednesday afternoon in Littlestown in an effort to reorganize the spotter station formerly located on the roof of the Littlestown High School. A number of persons were interviewed and it is expected that a chief observer will be secured soon, Hartzell said.

During World War II and up to about two years ago Littlestown had the most active and best organized post in Adams County and as soon as a volunteer leader takes hold the work of reorganization should be easy, Weaver added.

A chain of six spotter stations across the county is being planned by Hartzell. At present Adams County is the "one black spot in the Air Force map of spotter stations in this section," the chief observer stated and that "hole must be plugged," he added.

Work is going well in other county communities and it is hoped that it will be possible to complete the entire organization by July 11, Hartzell said.

Vinson Calls

his decision yesterday, Rep. Wheeler (D-Ga.) introduced a resolution in Congress calling for the impeachment of the justice. The resolution was put through the routine congressional hopper today.

Stern told the justice he doubts "the substantiality" of the point on which Douglas granted his stay. This was a question of whether the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 may have superseded the 1917 Espionage Act under which the Rosenbergs were convicted.

Stern recalled that the case has made "countless trips" to the Supreme Court as well as the Federal Appeals Court in New York.

Says Facts Proved

And, he said, the government has proved that the Rosenbergs made attempts to get atomic information for the benefit of the Soviet Union. To this end, Stern said, Rosenberg tried to enlist the aid of young scientists.

Soon after Stern began talking Douglas said he felt the attorney was overlooking the fact that the conspiracy of which the Rosenbergs were convicted covered the years 1944-50. This included four years after passage of the Atomic Energy Act.

Justice Robert Jackson remarked that all the overt acts alleged in the indictment against the Rosenbergs occurred after the passage of that energy act.

Douglas repeated the word "Alleged."

HOUSE REJECTS VETS' CARE PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today rejected a proposal to restrict free medical care for war veterans who can afford to pay for it and whose ailment is not connected with his military service.

By roll-call vote of 217 to 180, the House knocked from an appropriations bill a provision that would have allowed the Veterans Administration to ignore an oath by a veteran that he can't afford to pay for hospitalization.

The VA may not ignore such an oath now. Instead, it must accept at face value a veteran's oath that he can't afford outside treatment and furnish hospitalization when available.

Today's action insures the retention of that setup.

The new proposal would have let the VA go behind the oath and refuse hospitalization if it believes the applicant can afford to pay for it in a private hospital.

SAYS U. S. POWER CAN'T STOP REDS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Elder statesman Bernard Baruch says Europeans who cling to a misguided notion that American power alone can stop Communist aggression are, in effect, asking the United States to go it alone.

Baruch told the Junior Order, United American Mechanics, last night that the question "is whether Europe will force us to stand alone by failing to make its promised contribution to the common defense."

But, said Baruch, who was honored by the order as the American Citizen of the Year, "May I emphasize that we as well as the Europeans have fallen down on the goals set in the past."

"Already, before a truce in Korea seemed likely," said the white-haired advisor to Presidents, "pressures for tax reduction and arms cuts were building up. Some government leaders here and abroad had begun to talk of national economy being more important than national security."

Baruch said the future of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization hinges on (1) The Big Three meeting later this month at Bermuda, and (2) the possible lulling effect of a Korean truce.

The proposed train would be similar to one which toured the country several years ago collecting contributions for European War victims.

Dr. Eisenhower said American soldiers in Korea have donated from 16 to 20 million dollars from their own pay to help war victims in that country.

Defiant Revolt Against Allies May Balk Plans For Truce Pact

Rhee's order came last night. By 5 a. m. 25,000 prisoners had slipped away in the darkness and scattered.

With most of the 16,000 South Korean guards standing by idly, small numbers of surprised Americans tried to stop the flight with rifle fire, but they were too few. Nine prisoners were killed and 16 were wounded.

U. N. troops recaptured 971 prisoners, even as Lt. Gen. Won Yong Duk, South Korean provost marshal, warned that anyone who tried to arrest them—"regardless of nationality"—would be dealt with severely. He said he had ordered them freed on Rhee's command. High South Korean officials urged the people to feed, house and shelter the prisoners.

As the news became known, the U. S. Eighth Army canceled all leaves for Allied troops.

Can't Stop Break

The problem of rounding up the prisoners appeared almost impossible—many were South Koreans who had been impressed into the North Korean army. All could blend into the mass of other South Koreans unmarked by language or physical differences.

The U. N. Command was relying almost entirely on radio broadcasts asking the prisoners to return, even as South Korea's Radio Pusan broadcast Rhee's message urging civilians to house and feed them.

The U. N. broadcasts told the prisoners they had made a mistake in leaving the prison camps. They promised no reprisals and assured the prisoners they would be set free after an armistice is signed.

Conference Fails

Meanwhile, Maj. Gen. Thomas W. Harran, U. S. commander of POW camps, conferred with Gen. Sun Yup Paik, South Korean Army chief of staff, without reaching any solution.

From Allied soldiers at U. N. headquarters in Tokyo there was a strong undercurrent of resentment against Rhee and his followers.

PFC Bill Nadoiske of Akron, O., said: "We gave him everything. We do everything for him and now he turns around and kicks us in the teeth."

And in Tokyo, a spokesman at Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters issued a statement accusing the South Koreans of collusion with the anti-Rhee prisoners, saying: "Statements attributed to high officials of the Republic of Korea now make it clear that the action had been secretly planned and carefully co-ordinated at top levels in the Korean government and that outside assistance was furnished the POW's in their mass breakout."

"Republic of Korea Army security units assigned as guards at the POW camps did little to prevent the breakouts and there is every evidence of actual collusion between the ROK guards and the prisoners."

Before the mass escape, the U. N. held just under 125,000 prisoners.

Nearly 47,000 of them refused to go back. The 25,000 who escaped were among the 47,000.

where, declaring he had instructions not to give out such information. He added that anyone has a right to eat out without telling where.

Secret Sessions Illegal
The county school board is a public organization. The directors are paid for each meeting out of public funds. The actions taken by the board affect the entire Adams County school system, which last year cost the taxpayers of Adams County and Pennsylvania $1,755,763 according to the financial summary of receipts printed in the county school directory.

A state law prohibits "secret" or "star" sessions.

Attorney J. Francis Yake Jr. was named as solicitor for the board for another one-year term. The elections were the principal business of the board, County Superintendent J. Floyd Slaybaugh reported. The county superintendent added that the board began its discussions on the proposed revision of the Adams County plan for school development. "But only one or two had the opportunity to present their full views on the matter," he said.

Meet Next Monday

The discussion will continue at a meeting of the County Board to be held next Monday evening, June 22, at the office of the county superintendent of schools at the Court House.

Slaybaugh indicated that the board will need to hold several sessions on the subject: "This is a big and important project, and one that the board cannot rush into. It is one that must be discussed thoroughly and thought through. It will affect the development of our schools over the years ahead and the board needs time for discussion and thought before it can commit itself to any plan."

Last month the board was given the views of state officials on their idea of what the county plan should be, and was told it has the responsibility to present a new plan to the state department for approval.

John Klinefelter, president of the Lions Club, said that construction of the concrete block and frame structure will begin in the near future to permit use of the building in connection with the forthcoming fair in September.

The building will house the concession held annually at the fair by the Lions club and will replace the tent used previously for the restaurant, ice cream and games concession of the Lions.

To Become Fair Property
By agreement with the directors of the organization the building will be turned over to the South Mountain Community and Fair association. Payment will be amortized over the years by use of the amount previously set aside annually for tent rental.

The building will be of concrete block to counter height and above that will be of frame construction. The fair association plans to also allow the Lions to use the structure during the summer months and at other times, as wished, to sell ice cream or other foods when activities are going on at the fairgrounds. The Lions own a special machine for manufacturing frozen custard which has been used at the fairground for several years.

Approval to the project was given by the Lions membership at a meeting Tuesday evening at Arendtsville.

The new building will be located near the office building at the fairgrounds on the site where the Lions have had their tent during fair week for years.

Corn fields have been destroyed overnight, barley and oat heads and grain neatly clipped off, wheat heads and leaves eaten and blue grass fields practically mowed off close to the ground. Damage usually happens before the farmer is aware of the presence of the worms, and if they are discovered, control measures must be started immediately to save the crop.

The full grown armyworm is a smooth, striped caterpillar, 1 1/2 inches long, greenish in color, with dark stripes down the back and

R. C. REQUESTS WGET SCRIPT

The Arlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross has written asking permission to use a 15-minute radio show written by Gilbert J. Lupp, Biglerville, a junior at Gettysburg College, and broadcast about two months ago by WGET, entitled "Your Power To Save."

The Lupp wrote the script as an assignment in a radio speech class at the college taught by Prof. Harry Bolich. Four college students, members of Prof. Bolich's class, had the speaking parts in the radio show. The plot was built around an Ohio family, in which the daughter was stricken with polio, and attempted not only to dispel fear of the disease but to enlighten others that their blood given through the Red Cross can save lives of polio victims.

The request for the script and a tape recording was made in a letter to Prof. Bolich from Hamilton Myers, chairman of the blood program of the Arlington chapter. Mr. Lupp said he will send both script and a tape recording. He plans to offer it to the American Red Cross for use, if they desire, in other communities.

Mr. Lupp was employed for six months at WGET as a copy writer and in the program department. He also wrote "Stars on Parade," while serving for four years in the army's central recruiting and publicity bureau at Governor's Island, N. Y.

Braves Thump Phillies While Dodgers Lose To Cardinals; Cubs Win 16-Inning Marathon

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Maybe those hit-happy Milwaukee Braves made a secret excursion to Yankee Stadium on their last trip East.

Somewhere along the line they certainly stole a copy of the New Yorkers' private book on how to win pennants.

Applying the techniques described in the chapter "club 'em to death," the Braves mopped up their new stadium with the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-6, last night, and pulled a fat 2½ games out in front of the rest of the National League.

Braves Win, Brooks Lose

The Braves came home Tuesday only half a game off Brooklyn's pace after a 22-game road trip. They remedied this immediately by winning two from the Phils Tuesday night while the Dodgers bowed to St. Louis.

Last night's victory came as the Cards again obliged by thumping Brooklyn, 9-3.

Chicago defeated Pittsburgh, 5-4, last night in 16 innings—longest game of the season in either league—and the New York Giants beat Cincinnati, 4-1.

Yankees Beat Browns

The New York Yankees hit the winning trail again at the expense of the St. Louis Browns, who broke the New Yorkers' 18-game victory streak Tuesday night. Yesterday the Yankees won, 5-3, with Alie Reynolds back on the starting line after a siege of bullpen duty.

The Cleveland Indians outlasted the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-6, to end a six-game losing streak. The A's have seven straight.

Boston smothered the Detroit Tigers, 17-1, and Walt Masterson threw a sparkling two-hitter at the Chicago White Sox to give Washington a 1-0 decision.

The Braves jumped away to a 1-0 lead over the Phils in the first three innings with an attack which included home runs by Joe Adcock and Del Crandall in the third. They let the Phils get within striking distance at 7-6, then pulled it out with a final two runs in the eighth.

The Cardinals, aided by a pair of doubles by Stan Musial and Steve Bilko's eighth homer, scored all their runs after two were out. The first one came on four straight walks in the first inning by starter Johnny Podres, who had retired the first two men. Bilko homered with one on in the third and the Cards pushed five across in the seventh.

The marathon at Chicago ended when Randy Jackson singled with the bases loaded in the 16th off Johnny Hest, who had held the Cubs scoreless since coming on in the ninth. The victory went to Turk Lown, who took over in the ninth when the Pirates tied the score with three runs.

Billy Martin Is Speck

Rookie Ruben Gomez, with help from reliable Hoyt Wilhelm, won his second game in a starting role for the Giants.

Billy Martin sparked the Yankees' return to form against the Browns with a perfect day at bat—three singles in three times up, driving in a pair of runs.

The closest contest was at Washington, where Masterson and the White Sox' Saul Rogovin both had one-hitters through seven innings. Chico Carrasquel opened the Chicago sixth with a single and Jim Rivera got the only other White Sox hit, a double to start the eighth.

Senators Win In 9th

The Washington tally came in the ninth on a single by Mickey Vernon that brought in Ed Fitzgerald from third.

Bill Wight and Art Houtteman, two newcomers from Detroit, came to the aid of Bobby Feller as Cleveland beat the Athletics. Feller couldn't hold a 6-2 lead and Wight took over in the fourth. Houtteman followed in the seventh with Wight getting the triumph, his first.

Willard Nixon celebrated his 25th birthday in high style at Boston where he gave up only five hits and contributed a pair of his own to the Red Sox' 20-hit assault on four Detroit pitchers.

Alex Kellner Has Bursitis In Arm

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics have lost the service of another one of their pitching mainstays, southpaw Alex Kellner, who is suffering from a bursitis condition in his left arm.

Left-hander Bobby Shantz is currently sidelined with a lame pitching arm. Now Kellner has been advised by team physician, Dr. Ilarion Gopadze, not to throw a baseball for the next few days. He may be lost to the club for a week or even indefinitely due to the bursitis condition.

PHILS TO FETE HALL OF FAME BASEBALL ACES

PHILADELPHIA—Bob Carpenter, president of the Phillies, divulged plans today for the most elaborate salute ever accorded to baseball's stars of the past. Announcing a two-day program starting with August 20, Carpenter is inviting all surviving members of baseball's Hall of Fame to be guests of the Phillies on the occasion and in addition several score of noted Old Timers.

Marking the first re-union of all the living Hall of Fame players whose deeds are memorialized in the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y., their headquarters will be at the Warwick hotel. They number exactly two dozen.

In announcing the program to bring all these unforgettable idols together, Carpenter added that the "big night" of the celebration will be Friday, August 21. In this wind-up of the affair the Hall of Fame group will watch the Old Timers play a three-inning game with a picked team from the "Little Bigger League," prior to the scheduled Phillies-New York Giants contest.

The "Little Bigger League" team will be composed of players who at the time will be competing at Trenton, N. J. in their "world series."

Invitations to the Hall of Fame members make a rollcall of storied names and well-remembered headlines for several generations of fandom. Thus from an ever-dimming past, Ty Cobb, Fred Clark, Napoleon Lajoie, Ed Walsh, Cy Young, Connie Mack, Clark Griffith, Charles Nichols, Honus Wagner, Tris Speaker, George Sisler, Hugh Duffy.

Of more recent vintage, Rogers Hornsby, Mickey Cochrane, Frankie Frisch, Charley Gehring, Dizzy Dean, Jimmy Foxx, Lefty Grove, Carl Hubbell, Pie Traynor, Al Simmons, Paul Waner and Mel Ott. Scattered throughout the country, most are retired from baseball. None, however, has lost his intense interest in the game.

Among the invited Old Timers, to name a few, will be Cy Williams, Otto Knebe, Wild Conroy, Huck Betts, Howard Ehmke, Hans Lobert, Charley Gelbert, Rube Oldring, Fritz Henrich, Joe Judge, Chief Bender, Max Bishop, Jimmy "Rip" Collins, Lefty Gomez, Goose Goslin, Joe Bush, Lefty Grove, Walter Keating, Doc Lafitte, Rabbit Maranville, Frank McCormick, Patsy O'Rourke, Curley Ogden, Joe Shaute, Amos Strunk, Roy Thomas, Joe Sugden, Billy Whitman, Whitey Witt, Pep Young, Iza Thomas, Lena Blackburne, Doc Levan.

Father Thorning was the first North American to be awarded the degree, Doctor of Divinity, honoris causa, by the Catholic University of Chile, a Pontifical institution. He has also received honorary doctorates from the University of Santo Domingo, the National University of Costa Rica and other institutions of learning in Latin America.

During the Spanish Civil War and for some years afterwards, Dr. Thorning's articles and speeches were published in many newspapers and reviews of the world. Other series of articles from his pen were carried in the Religious Press Services of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and in "America." He is now the Latin American editor of "World Affairs," Washington, official organ of the American Peace Society, founded by the Society of Friends in 1828. Dr. Thorning's articles and reviews are a regular feature of "The Americas."

Served U. S. Missions
For ten consecutive years, Father Thorning has been invited to open the Congressional celebration of Pan American Day with prayer. As a specialist on inter-American affairs, he is consulted by many members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives. On several occasions he has represented the United States on diplomatic missions to various American Republics.

Upon the re-establishment of full diplomatic relations between the United States and Spain, Dr. Thorning was awarded two of Spain's highest decorations, the Grand Cross of the Order of Isabella The Catholic, and the Cross of Alfonso The Wise. He has also been decorated by Ecuador, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Cuba and Venezuela.

Among the books written by the priest-scholar are "Religious Liberty In Transition," his doctoral dissertation at the Catholic University of America; "A Primer of Social Justice," "Builders Of The Social Order," interviews with prominent statesmen in all parts of the world, and "Miranda, World Citizen," (The University of Florida Press, 1952) the only volume by a priest-scholar in the United States twice cited in the past year by the New York Times Book Review as one of "the outstanding books of the year." This biography of the forerunner of South American freedom is now in its second printing and continues to gain popularity in scholarly circles from coast to coast.

Father Thorning's most recent appearance in the U. S. Senate was on May 20, when he delivered the invocation on Cuba's national holiday celebrating the 160th anniversary of the Cuban apostle of liberty, Jose Marti.

MAY LIBERALIZE MARRIAGE LAWS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's marriage laws would be liberalized under a new bill passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

The measure, approved Tuesday before the upper chamber closed down for the week, would permit young women of 18 years of age to be married without having obtained the consent of their parents.

The present age for women is 21. It is the same for men. The bill, sponsored by Sen. Fred P. Hare Jr. (R—Somerset) leaves all reference to men unchanged.

Other bills passed by the Senate and sent to the House would:

Authorize probationaries to make or accept photostatic or microfilm copies of legal documents—Sen. Charles R. Weiner (D—Philadelphia).

Permit county boards of school directors to establish classes and schools for physically handicapped

American Is Making Tour Without Money

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A "magic phrase" is helping a young North American make a tour of the world. Joseph Borne, 25, of Montana arrived here recently on the South American stage of his journey.

Since leaving Montana, he says he has spent 76 cents, although he is prepared to spend up to 50 dollars for the whole trip. So far, he has visited Honduras, Cuba, Trinidad, Venezuela, British Guiana, via car, airplane and ship. After visiting Argentina, he hopes to go on to Africa. The magic phrase? "I have no money." Borne claims that after he says that, people are willing to help him find free passage or lodging.

Reds Execute Man Named As Organizer Of Berlin Riots

BERLIN (AP)—A Russian firing squad today executed a German accused by the Soviet Army Command of organizing anti-Communist riots in East Berlin.

Maj. Gen. P. T. Dibrova, now ruling East Berlin under a state of siege, announced the execution.

The Soviet general described the dead man, Willi Goetting, as "a resident of West Berlin, who worked on order of a foreign intelligence service, was one of the active organizers of provocations and disturbances in the Soviet sector of Berlin, and participated in the violent banditry against the organs of power and the population."

Extend Martial Law
"Goetting was sentenced to death by shooting. The sentence was carried out," the grim announcement concluded.

The Russians extended martial law to areas bordering East Berlin and began a series of mass arrests in an effort to stamp out the unrest which exploded in the sector yesterday and resulted in at least 16 fatalities.

The Russian military commander's announcement was distributed by the Soviet zone news agency ADN.

Police and Communist party officials raided workers' homes, hunting suspects.

West Germany wondered if the Soviet Army would stop its firing squad after the one execution as a terror example.

Informers At Work
Most of the arrested Germans were, by Communist admission, residents of East Berlin and not the Allied sectors. But Red propaganda continued to harp on the charge that "Western provocateurs" instigated the anti-Communist rebellion.

Some of the oldest employees of nationalized plants and factories were seized last night and this morning. They were pointed out by Communist informers as men who had led the march of 50,000 workers against the government headquarters yesterday.

Big John Mize wears a big smile and holds the ball he slammed into right field for his 2,000th base hit as a major leaguer in the game against the St. Louis Browns at New York June 16. The Yankee pinch hitter became the third active player with 2,000 hits. His single drove in the Yankees' only run in a 3 to 1 defeat which ended an 18-game winning streak.

York Springs Is Winner On Forfeit

York Springs received credit for a 9-0 victory when New Kingston forfeited a scheduled Bi-County League game Wednesday evening.

Other league results were: White Hill 6, Centerville 2; Plainfield 6, Lisburn 5; Blue Raiders 14, Mt. Pleasant 1.

100 Golfers Enter Central Penn Tourney

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—More than 100 mid-state golfers teed off today for the qualifying rounds of the 30th annual Central Penn Golf Tournament here.

Heading the list of entries is Lynn Creason, veteran Harrisburg amateur, who is seeking his fourth straight title in the four-day competition at the Lebanon Country Club.

Match play starts Saturday with the semifinals and finals scheduled for Sunday.

Former state amateur champion H. H. (Billy) Haverstick, who has won the Central Penn four times, passed up the tourney this year because of the press of business. Haverstick was third ranking amateur in last week end's National Open.

Last year Haverstick was defeated by Creason in a 19-hole final match.

Heard Red Say

telling the gathering of seven or eight persons that he was "gratified" by the assignment and that "when the time would come he would be ready to carry it out."

Mazzei testified at a hearing by the Senate Investigations Subcommittee. McCarthy heads this group but had arranged for Sen. Mundt (R-SD) to preside.

Mundt asked Mazzei whether Bortz meant "a political liquidation or a physical liquidation" of McCarthy.

"To kill him," Mazzei said. McCarthy sat quietly at the court-like bench in the hearing room as Mazzei told his story.

Mazzei said he now owns and manages the Grand Theater at Millvale, Pa., but was an undercover agent for the FBI from 1951 until last March 26, when he testified in a court proceeding involving Steve Nelson of Pittsburgh, convicted Communist leader.

He related that on the day of the proceeding he ate breakfast with Nelson in a restaurant across the street from the Court House, and Nelson, still believing Mazzei to be a Communist, asked whether he thought "some stool pigeon" might testify.

Member Of Tough Gang
Mazzei said he responded that "probably some other son of a bee" would do so, then walked over to the Court House and gave testimony against Nelson. Details were not given.

Mazzei said Bortz was a member of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade in the Spanish Republican Army which fought the forces of Francisco Franco in the Spanish Civil War.

He said Bortz was in "the elite" group of a tough Communist underground, and active in training fellow Communists in the use of weapons.

Mazzei said a target range was set up in the basement of a Pittsburgh building at which the Communists met, and was used for target practice with a variety of weapons. He said he himself was among those who received instructions from Bortz on how to make bombs.

In calling today's hearing, McCarthy kept secret the names of prospective witnesses and the subject matter to be explored.

to continue their work, which fruit-men have termed "invaluable."

Three per cent mortgage bonds were issued, totaling $30,000, and properties at Arendtsville were bought for the laboratories and research orchards for use by the scientists. State College entered into an agreement to rent the properties, with the rental to pay the interest on the bonds and to pay off the principal as it came due. So far $6,000 worth of bonds have matured and been paid off under the plan.

Money Available Now
This year when money became available to the college, it decided to call the bonds and pay them all off. The original sale of the bonds, most of which were bought by fruit growers, provided for pre-maturity redemption of the bonds if desired.

The $24,000 worth of bonds were originally scheduled to mature between January 1, 1954, and January 1, 1958. By calling the bonds at present the college will save the 3 per cent interest.

Monday the board of directors of the corporation agreed to sell the properties to State College and disband. The bonds are to be redeemed at the Gettysburg National bank by July 1. Present officers include M. E. Knouse as chairman, Richard C. McDannell, Shippensburg, vice chairman; Robert C. Lott, Aspers, R. D. secretary, and Harry B. Raffensperger, Arendtsville, treasurer.

council representative. Vivian Geiselman is the leader and Sarah Snyder is the assistant of the first patrol. Lois Smick is the leader of the second patrol with Betty Lou Kuykendall as her assistant.

The Senior Scouts act as aides to all the units. Plans for overnight camping were made by the intermediates. The "Wild Flowers" camped out Tuesday night with Mrs. Robert Ditchburn, Mrs. Hilda Arter, Mrs. Dora Mae Snyder and Donna Wolf as chaperons for the 18 girls. Robin Hood's Men" camped out Wednesday evening. Chaperons for the 20 girls included Mrs. Gordon Webster, Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely and Mildred Baldwin. Tonight the Silver Pines' will camp out with Mrs. John S. Rice and Miss Scott as chaperons. The following aides will be present: the Misses Shirley Sanders, Elaine Robert, Joan Wiley, Nancy Neth, Jean Hartzell and Sally Smith.

Camp Closes Friday
Pre-planning for the camping included learning to make blanket rolls, planning the menus for a full course open kitchen meal, learning how to prepare a meal using a trench fire, learning how to make a teepee fire and to collect different types of firewood.

The camp will close Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with a program for parents and friends. The girls have selected as their theme, "Spirit of America." Each unit will participate in the program and arts and crafts prepared by the girls will be on display.

The Littlestown day camp will open next week to be followed the ensuing week by Camp Conewago.

Payroll Padding Is Denied By Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Ernest K. Bramblett (R-Calif.) today entered a plea of innocent to an 18-count indictment charging payroll padding and kickbacks from office employees.

Chief Judge Bolitha J. Laws of the U. S. District Court set bond at $2,500 and fixed Oct. 19 as a tentative trial date.

Bramblett's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, was given until July 27 to file any preliminary motions attacking the indictment.

All Bramblett said when asked by the judge how he wished to plead to the indictment was "not guilty."

Bramblett posted $2,500 bond through a commercial bondsman in the court clerk's office after being fingerprinted.

Believe Korean Truce Draft Complete But Its Fate Hangs On Effect Of Surprise By Rhee

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR
MUNSAN (AP)—The draft of a Korean truce apparently was completed today but its fate might turn on President Syngman Rhee's open defiance of his allies in arbitrarily releasing 25,000 anti-Red prisoners of war.

Rhee's order opening the gates of four POW camps in this morning's darkness was in direct opposition to the armistice terms.

Even as the prisoners scattered, it appeared that all details of an armistice agreement had been wrapped up and the final text was being rushed to completion.

Expect Delay
Preparations for exchanging thousands of war prisoners were rushed by both sides. U. N. officials speculated on whether Rhee's action might delay the return of some 13,000 U. N. prisoners held by the Reds.

Official U. N. sources in Tokyo said they did not expect Rhee's move to wreck the armistice, but a delay was anticipated. The Reds might demand delivery of the escaped prisoners before signing a truce.

Staff officers who have been putting the finishing touches on the armistice wound up their sessions at 12:30 p. m. and translators went to work immediately. They presumably were putting the document into English, Korean and Chinese.

Indefinite Recess
The staff officers recessed indefinitely.

There was no announcement as to when the top-level negotiators would meet to approve the text.

Some observers said it was possible the armistice agreement would have to be sent to Washington and U. N. headquarters in New York for approval. This would take several days.

Go On With Plans
Meanwhile, both sides acted as though a truce were still no more than a few days away.

Communist work crews tore down mud huts in Panmunjom and began construction of what appeared to be a large permanent building. This may be the site of the official signing and could serve as headquarters for the military armistice commission.

U. N. officials stepped up the job of clearing sites for exchanging prisoners and top officers who will serve on the military armistice commission flew to Korea.

RAILROAD NOW PROVIDES MEAL TO MEET DIETS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
The Associated Press

The Pennsylvania Railroad, in a highly daring and perhaps potentially explosive experiment, has inaugurated a special dining car service. It is a 470-calorie meal for dining passengers: Tomato juice, broiled chopped sirloin with carrots, lettuce salad with a non-fattening dressing, two crackers, a grapefruit half, tea or coffee with saccharine on the side.

If the railroad manages to corral enough dining passengers to make this project popular and profitable, it is logical to assume that it will spread through the public eating places of the nation.

At that point, I predict, a large segment of the working population will be made acutely unhappy. I have made a personal survey, and can state that some 99.4 per cent of the adult population are either thinking about going on a diet, are in one of the first two days of a diet, or are talking about a new diet.

Few Want Weight

Of course, there are two kinds of people interested in diets: Those who want to put on weight and those who want to take it off. The first are such a minority as to be practically non-existent. Among those who want to lose weight there are two groups: those who have been placed on strict diets on the orders of their physicians, and — this is the huge majority — the group which diets for a hobby.

Many of these are men and women who collect regimens the way gourmets collect recipes, who are constantly giving a one- or two-day whirl to a new painless weight-losser like an all-ice-cream, all-bread, all-hard-boiled-eggs-and-ketchup deal or to some complicated formula in which the secret lies in eating one-half of an anchovy before each meal.

If the Pennsylvania Railroad's service is a success, it is going to affect these fat dieters, who are apt to be the ones who patronize restaurants. If the idea of a dieter's meal, on a table d'hôte basis, is to be incorporated into the menus of many eating places, the result is bound to force diet-talkers to put up or shut up. Maybe both.

As an old diet-talker in good standing (I've one of the world's finest collections of eat-and-grow-thin diets), I am pretty certain that if I were to find a prix fixe luncheon containing the railroad's 470-calorie fare at my favorite luncheon place, the word "diet" would never cross my lips.

Dieting Is Hard Work

On an average of 12 times a year, I begin a week full of fine, high-minded determination to lose a few pounds via some new simple diet I've culled from a magazine, newspaper or drawn from the eager lips of a friend. It's always a Monday morning. By noon on Monday, I'm hungry and make my way to a restaurant.

And there it inevitably ends. There's not a thing on the bill of fare which fits my diet. You can't eat lettuce and tomato just like that — salt is forbidden and obviously French dressing isn't allowed. And besides, it costs so much more to order a la carte that it's ridiculous. You can't go home for lunch and you certainly can't bring your lunch to work — that means sandwiches and everyone knows how fattening they are.

So, in the interests of economy and convenience, the easiest thing to do is order the chicken Tetrazzini on the three-course lunch, and postpone starting the diet until Tuesday. So it goes and I can blame the restaurant.

However, I am pretty certain that I'll do some fast rationalizing the first day my restaurant features a carefully organized inexpensive low-calorie luncheon to help me in the battle against the scales.

I predict failure for the Pennsylvania's project, but I think it would be interesting if it succeeded and caught on. I can't imagine what subjects we'd find to fill the conversational void once diets were removed. But I'm sure we can find good reasons for not ordering it.

Mexican Border Town Has Traffic Troubles

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—Don Alejandro Villaseñor, Mexican consul here, has asked assistance of traffic engineers of the Mexican and U. S. governments to work out some way of alleviating the traffic congestion in Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, just across the international border from this city. All traffic now goes down the narrow main street of the Mexican city, Calle Obregon.

Increase in both truck and passenger car traffic has brought about a critical situation, the consul declared. He wants truck traffic rerouted around both cities.

Water is about 800 times as dense as air.

RED SONG IN HOSPITAL

GUATEMALA (AP)—A maternity hospital of 200 beds costing about $1,000,000 was opened here recently. Victor Manuel Gutierrez and other prominent Communists were among those attending the dedication ceremonies. Two cabinet ministers were present.

A large group of those attending sang "The Internationale," the songs of the Reds.

Somebody Seriously Wrong On Estimates Of Air Force Needs; Ike And Vandenberg Disagree

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of four articles on the Air Force revolt against the Eisenhower defense budget.)

By DON WHITEHEAD
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's defense budget has been challenged as one that imperils U. S. security by clipping the Air Force's wings.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, has made that serious accusation. The general wants Congress to override the administration and provide money for a 143-wing Air Force rather than wait for a complete new review of U. S. military needs by the incoming Joint Chiefs of Staff and the National Security Council.

Eisenhower has told the nation: "We are not going to cripple this nation and we are going specifically to keep up its air power."

Somebody Is Wrong
But Vandenberg testified before a Senate committee: "I feel that under the present budget the delay in reaching the proper strength of the Air Force is endangering national defense."

Now, in those two statements somebody is wrong. Both men can't be right—not if they are working from the same estimates of the world situation.

The key to these contradictions appears to be that Eisenhower and his civilian defense chiefs base their planning on one estimate of the danger of Soviet attack and the air power needed in the near future, while Vandenberg bases his position on a different—and more alarming—estimate.

How Situation Developed

Thus if Vandenberg is right then the U. S. should gear up fast. If the administration assessment is correct, then obviously there is time for a new look at the entire picture.

Let's take a look at how this situation developed:
Back in 1951 under the Truman regime, the Joint Chiefs of Staff agreed on strength levels for the Army, Navy and Air Force which they considered a safe minimum.

The buildup goal for the Air Force was 143 wings. The number of planes in a wing varies according to the mission. For example, there are 30 bombers in a wing—but a fighter wing consists of 75 combat planes.

Appropriated Billions

Military men estimated that by 1954 Russia would have the potential for all-out atomic attack on the U. S. They aimed for 143 wings by that year, but later shifted their sights to mid-1955.

Congress appropriated billions. In the past three years, the U. S. spent about $101,740,000,000 on rearmament and the Korean War. The Air Force began expanding. Contracts were made, plans were made for bases and training of personnel.

Then the administration changed. Eisenhower entered the White House and chose Charles E. Wilson of General Motors as his defense secretary.

Wilson's Performance

Wilson immediately froze construction of new bases not deemed vital. He reduced personnel estimates and went about the business of seeing how and where military spending could be cut.

Wilson and his deputy, Roger M. Kyes, made statements clearly indicating they did not think Russia was ready for war either in the air or industrially. Eisenhower rejected any "crisis year" approach to the defense buildup.

Wilson took a look at the plane production schedules. He found the aircraft industry had fallen behind in combat plane deliveries as much as 30 per cent. He figured the Air Force couldn't reach the 143-wing goal under any circumstances before December, 1955.

Whole Thing Out Of Gear

Wilson found, too, that the Air Force was making contracts in which the "lead time" for deliveries was as much as three years in advance. He decided this lead time could be cut to two years and therefore the Air Force wouldn't need so much money for advance financing.

Besides, there was on hand 28 billion dollars that the Air Force hadn't spent. The lag in production had thrown the whole program out of gear.

Wilson and his aides made no cutback in the combat plane production. They decided to keep pro-

Women Demand New Laws On Marriage

SINGAPORE (AP) — The suffragettes are on the march in this British colony — demanding reformation of existing marriage and divorce laws. A committee of Singapore Council of Women has sent a petition to the governor, asking application of British marriage and divorce laws to all races here.

The petition pointed out the "injustices" to which women of Chinese, Malay and Indian race now have to submit by marrying to custom. Marriages according to custom, performed at temples and mosques, are not registered officially. Men who marry in this manner can cast off their wives and children without giving them support and the women have no grounds on which to claim alimony.

It is customary for Chinese and Malays to have more than one wife if they are non-Christians.

HORSES STILL IMPORTANT
TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) — The horse has not been outmoded in this atomic age. Cowboys used 126 especially trained cow ponies in the spring roundup on a cattle company's ranch here.

Progress Of TV Is Shown In Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — The speed with which coast to coast television has developed is clearly shown by a checkup of the records.
On May 1, 1948, only 196 miles of TV circuits were available to connect five cities along the eastern seaboard, including Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington.

In the five years since then the circuits, which include both coaxial cable and micro-wave links, have been extended to the west coast, to the north and to the south and to intermediate points so that relay service now is available over 34,000 miles of relays to 87 cities.

Before 1953 is out, 13,000 more channel miles will be added.

Railroad tank cars range in capacity from 4,000 to 16,000 gallons.

SHRINK-PROOF WOOL

NEW YORK (AP) — Shrink-proof wool has been developed by an Australian research group, the Australian Information Service here says. At least one license to a woolen mill has been granted. The process will be developed in other commercial plants, the announcement says. The new process treats the wool with a resin, but the Australians say that it does not change the normal qualities of the wool.

PREPARING FOR 1954 PLANTING

It may sound strange to discuss in June 1953 plans for planting in the spring of 1954 but let's look at a few tasks in soil preparation which justify attention now. This thought was generated a few days ago when a reader asked for advice on planting asparagus. Realizing that early spring is the proper season to plant asparagus roots, we thought at first that this inquirer need be in no rush about plans. But as we began to answer his request we realized that late spring and summer are the best time of the year to begin actual work in preparing soils for spring planting of asparagus, strawberries, all bramble fruits, rhubarb, blueberries, and even tree fruits.

Perennial plants, such as these, which occupy the original areas for several years, demand a deep, fertile loam with plenty of organic matter present to a depth of 10 to 20 inches. Rarely is a natural soil of this type and scope available. It must be prepared. And this is a task that must be started at least the previous summer before spring planting.

One of the easiest and most economical ways to make such necessary soil repairs in the absence of livestock manure is to grow special green manure crop and turn it under in late summer. In fact, it is possible to grow two such crops before winter. The green matter will soon decay after it is turned under and the benefits it provides will last many years. Most failures with the crops listed above result from a lack of such organic matter.

Soybeans are an excellent green manure crop. Seed should be planted at once, either broadcast or in rows, and the green matter turned under in the early pod stage before the stems begin to get woody.

Sudan grass is by far the "fastest" green manure crop available. It is ready to turn under within four weeks after seed is sown. Here is a good green manure crop to utilize where the gardener or farmer intends to set out strawberry plants in August. Too, it is an ideal crop to grow for two or three successive cuttings for summer mulching and then permit a later growth to be turned under.

Seed should be broadcast at once. Rye makes rapid growth for green manure purposes. Likewise oats may be used in this role. So much importance must be attached to a liberal supply of organic matter in the soil for raspberries, dewberries, and blackberries that special emphasis should be placed on growing green manure over summer for turning under later for soil improvement. Of course, turned soils must be protected over winter, preferably with winter rye seeded in late August or early September. This makes sufficient growth before winter to provide an effective "cushion" against the splashing effects of falling rain and an "overcoat" to check soil losses from run-off water.

Most gardeners fail to note that red raspberry plants may be set out in late October. Here it is advisable to make use of an overwinter mulch to prevent soil losses.

Strawberry plants set out in August will bear at least a partial crop the following spring. Or if

POST-BLOOM CARE OF PEONIES

The number and quality of next year's peony blooms and the general health and vigor of the plants will be determined largely by the care given the clumps from now until fall. This advice is based on an important but overlooked or unknown principle of peony culture, namely that the roots store strength after the blooming period for the following year's blooms. This fact is generally true of all ornamentals that grow from corms, or bulbs, tubers, and matted roots.

Reducing advice to a simple formula for post-bloom care of peonies, it may be stated in this way: To have beautiful peony blooms next year, keep the foliage thriving this summer until it dies back naturally. This goal places emphasis on four main steps in care. They are:

1. Prevent diseases.
2. Control insect enemies.
3. Feed the plants as soil conditions warrant.
4. Supply moisture requirements whenever rainfall is lacking.

Blight is usually the most common disease of peonies grown outdoors. There are, in fact, two types of blight attacking this plant, but for general prevention purposes they may be considered together. Characteristic leaf spotting is seen and it is in this injury that post-bloom growth is disturbed. Spraying the new spring shoots with Bordeaux mixture is helpful. There may be benefits from an occasional application of Bordeaux after blooms disappear. Removal of badly affected clumps will greatly reduce blight dangers. Too, all peony litter should be gathered and burned before winter.

Ants often visit peony plants to obtain the sweet secretion of aphids, commonly called honeydew. In this case the ants are not attacking the plants. Extermination of the lice will cause ants to depart. If rose chafers (fawn-colored, awkward beetles) attack peony leaves, combat them with a pyrethrum spray, coating the feeding beetles. Or knock them from plants into a pail of water with a film of kerosene on the surface. Do this early in the morning while the chafers are sluggish. Or spray the foliage uniformly with rotenone.

To invigorate continued plant growth after blooms fade, peonies should be fed with a complete fertilizer, worked carefully into the soil in a broad band around the base, not up near the stalks. Well decomposed manure and particularly pulverized cattle manure fattered from a pasture field after it is weathered-dry will prove beneficial in post-bloom feeding.

Perhaps most peonies suffer from deficient moisture during this vital period after blooms disappear. The editor has experimented with many methods of meeting this need and finds that summer mulching pays big dividends in peony health. Peat moss, grass clippings, leaves, immature weeds or other fine vegetation should be strewn liberally in a carpet around the clumps. This coat conserves soil moisture, keeps the ground cooler, and invites feeder root growth in the richer surface soil. Of course, in case of prolonged droughts the soil, mulched or not, should be soaked to a depth of 4 to 8 inches once every week to 10 days.

And by the way, now is a good time to make soils ready for planting peonies in early September.

Sweden has about one automobile for every 20 people.

Uneasy Quiet Settles Over Embattled East Berlin Today

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP) An uneasy quiet settled over embattled East Berlin today as the half-city nursed its wounds in the wake of anti-Communist riots that took at least 16 lives.

German truck drivers crossing the 100 miles of highway between West Germany and Berlin relayed to West Berlin police rumors—entirely unconfirmed—that Red police also had shot and killed 22 rioters in Magdeburg yesterday, and that similar riot-strikes against the Communist government erupted in Dresden, Chemnitz, Dessau and Brandenburg.

Ten thousand Soviet armored troops encircled Berlin's Russian-occupied sector, some pointing their guns westward, others directing their ominous attention toward the East Germans.

Blame "Western Agents"

The Communists' Radio Berlin repeated over and over that the cyclonic outburst yesterday of 50,000 workers against the Red regime—put down only by Soviet intervention—was steamed up by "Western agents."

The same charge was hurled by Moscow's Communist party newspaper Pravda and Red organs elsewhere.

Western anti-Communist reaction to the riots also was generally uniform. In Washington, Bonn and other Western capitals the outbreak was viewed generally as a damaging blow to Soviet claims of creating a workers' paradise, a monkey wrench in the new Red peace offensive, and a powerful spur to pressure for unification of Germany.

Russia's Hold Slipping

Washington sources, citing reports of similar recent unrest in Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria, said it looked like Russia's hold on East Europe may be slipping even more than the West had hoped.

The Red Berlin radio announced the names of 18 youngsters under 20 who it said had been arrested in connection with the wild demonstrations. The broadcast identified the youths as Western agents—and listed all but two as Soviet zone residents.

The Reds also contended that the general strike which paralyzed the Eastern sector of the city yesterday had ended. "All patriotic workers are back on their jobs," it declared.

WANTS IKE TO CLARIFY BOOK BURNING CASE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today President Eisenhower "in fairness" ought to clarify his declaration that the State Department has his permission to burn books containing down-right Communist propaganda.

Eisenhower made the statement at a news conference yesterday and, when asked, declined to say whether his gibe at "book burners" in a speech at Dartmouth College Sunday, was aimed at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). Eisenhower's reply was that he never deals in personalities.

Apparently Russian rifleman shot down several hundred Germans, but the exact casualty toll was impossible to pin down. The German Red Cross identified 16 bodies in West Berlin hospitals as riot gun-shot victims. There, also, were 119 wounded, some in serious condition.

How many lay dead or wounded in the Soviet zone could not be determined.

the senator contends are "30,000 Communist books" by some 200 authors.

Wants List Of Books
Jackson, in a separate interview, said: "President Eisenhower in fairness to all concerned ought to state specifically what he did have in mind. This controversy over book burning has such tremendous public importance the President and Secretary of State Dulles should leave no ground for misunderstanding of their policy."

Sure He's Not Target
McCarthy, who said he was sure he was not the target of Eisenhower's remark, said after the news conference:

"I think he has given a commendable clarification of the Dartmouth speech, which apparently has been misunderstood by many newsmen."

McCarthy amended the comment later to "misunderstood by many persons."

The President's denunciation of "book burners" had been interpreted widely as aimed at McCarthy's successful fight to remove from U. S. overseas libraries what the senator contends are "30,000 Communist books" by some 200 authors.

Wants List Of Books
Jackson, in a separate interview, said: "President Eisenhower in fairness to all concerned ought to state specifically what he did have in mind. This controversy over book burning has such tremendous public importance the President and Secretary of State Dulles should leave no ground for misunderstanding of their policy."

Jackson said he intends to write to Dulles "at once" demanding that he make public the whole list of books banned from U. S. information libraries abroad.

STUDY RATS TO FIND ANSWER TO BETTER OLD AGE

BASLE, Switzerland (AP)—How to keep an old rat feeling young is among the problems facing a small group of world-renowned experts in gerontology (the study of old age) who are engaged on research at the University and City Hospital here.

In the basement of the University's 400-year-old medical school, hundreds of white rats of different ages are learning to find their way through a labyrinth of metal cages to a bowl of food. As they get old—a rat is venerable at the age of three—they become forgetful and slow on the uptake.

Can the nutrition and other living conditions of the rats be so improved that their ability to learn quickly is prolonged into old age? The answer will take years to find, but may finally contribute to easing one of mankind's greatest social and economic burdens, the helplessness of the aged.

Study Gland System

The experiments are conducted by Dr. Jean McDougall Verzar while, in the medical school above, her husband, Professor Frederic Verzar, is trying to solve the mysteries of the human gland system. Prof. Verzar is one of the world's foremost gland experts. He is convinced that gland research will eventually point the way towards maintaining human efficiency into old age, together with better food and living conditions for old people.

Relatively little is known about the functioning of the gland system, but Prof. Verzar is certain of one fact: There is no connection between the ability of old people to live an active life and their sex hormones. "This old popular belief has brought our research into wide disrepute," he says. "It is completely unfounded."

Professor Adolph Vischer of Basle City Hospital, who directs the city's unique old-age home, is a close friend of Prof. and Mrs. Verzar and keeps constantly in touch with their research. Prof. Vischer's main interest is in the emotional and environmental problems of the aged and his old-age home, an integral part of the hospital, is widely known for its advanced approach.

Make Old Folk Useful

"Some of our methods are really not so advanced at all," Dr. Vischer says, "since they have been practiced here since the home was founded in 1860."

the Middle Ages. What is most important is that we try to make the old folk feel useful." Most of the 500 inmates, aged from 60 to 95, are given work as gardeners, messengers or craftsmen in or near the hospital and receive full rates of pay. Dr. Vischer strongly advocates that old-age homes should always be located in the heart of a city, "so that the inmates can take part in normal activities."

Yet another renowned gerontologist, Dr. Clive M. McCay of Cornell University, is spending his sabbatical year in Basle. Dr. McCay is principally a nutritionist, who believes that people who eat sensibly in middle life are less likely to become a burden on their relatives in old age.

Not Longer Life

"We are not trying to prolong life," Dr. McCay explained. "The world would be considerably worse off than it is if people lived longer. What we are trying to do is to decrease the difficulties of old age."

The problem was of particular importance in the United States, where, Dr. McCay estimated, the total number of persons above the age of 65 would almost double during the next 30 years. "Our methods of treating the aged are still very primitive," Dr. McCay declared.

Some common European habits could well be more widely adopted in America, he said, particularly the practice of eating fruit and cheese instead of sweet desserts. "We eat far too much cake and candy," he said.

Keep People Healthy

Dr. McCay was also greatly impressed by the widespread use of bicycles in Europe. "I am certain that bicycles are a tremendously important factor in keeping people healthy. It would do us a lot of good in America to learn to go about by bicycle instead of by car."

Dr. McCay considers the powerful cooperative chain-stores in Europe a valuable influence towards improved nutrition. The stores have popularized whole-wheat bread and

CORSETS SPOIL GUESSING GAME

NEW YORK (AP)—If Hy Malik had his way, women would not be allowed to wear corsets or girdles to amusement parks. Hy explains that these garments are an obstacle to his chosen profession—weight guessing at a New Jersey Amusement Park.

Hy has been guessing the weights of people for almost two decades. "You can't tell what is behind those corsets when a woman ascends on a scale," Malik declared.

Malik said that "on a good day" he can guess men's weights correctly almost 70 per cent of the time. On the other hand, if he can break 50 per cent with the women, he considers himself lucky. If Malik doesn't guess a person's weight within three pounds, the individual wins a prize.

Hy says that he is always running into people who are eager to outwit him. "One day at Palsades Amusement Park," Hy recalled, "a young man got on the scale with about 10 pounds of rocks under his coat. On another occasion, a man had a sash weight strapped around his waist."

Malik says that people on the average are fatter today than they were when he started out in business.

Sweden's constitution was set up in 1809 and the Swedes say it is the oldest written constitution in Europe.

Yoghurt, both vital in maintaining the efficiency of the aged, according to Dr. McCay. He also believes that Europeans generally are wise to drink little hard liquor—mostly because they cannot afford it—and to prefer "nourishing" beer to soft drinks.

Russian Experts Build Tibet Road

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Peiping radio says Communist road builders are ready to tackle another stretch in the half-completed 678-mile road leading from China's Tsinghai province over high mountain passes into Tibet. The road will join another main highway being pushed through to Lhasa, capital of Tibet from Sikang province, called the main artery of western China.

The Peiping broadcast, heard by the Associated Press in San Francisco, said the new Tsinghai project will wind across a frigid, sparsely populated plateau more than 15,000 feet above sea level. Suspension bridges more than 600 feet long will be built. The broadcast said Russian experts were working on the project.

ORDERS COSTLY WATCH YEARLY

LUCERNE, Switzerland (AP)—Somewhere in the world there's a man who will give himself another present this year, although he doesn't know what it will look like until he receives it. And he doesn't care what it will cost!

Mr. X is known only to a very ingenious Swiss watchmaker, who every year makes him a costly, handmade timepiece that is never duplicated. Six years ago the watchmaker received a letter which said:

"I would like to place a standing order for one watch a year. Each watch must be original in movement and design—there must be no other watch in the world like it. When you complete each watch you must tear up the plans. You needn't tell me about each watch in advance. I want each to come as an annual surprise. And never mind the cost."

The latest watch required 18 months to make. It is a pocket model, with a Viking ship reproduced on the dial in platinum set with 57 diamonds. A platinum oar is suspended from each side of the ship. At the touch of a button, the oars flip up. The left oar slides up a scale indexed from 1 to 12 to give the hour, and the other one ascends a scale marked 0 to 60 to record the minute.

Compares Symphony To Girl Orchestra

PITTSBURGH (AP)—William Martin, manager of the Pittsburgh Symphony, tells this story of one he had recently in Schenectady, N. Y.:

A rehearsal was scheduled for a movie theater and at the last minute Martin learned the orchestra would have to be gone by 12 o'clock noon. Martin pleaded for more time. But the theater manager was unmoved. He said:

"We're very proud to have the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and Conductor William Steinberg with us. But even if it was Phil Spitalny and his All-Girl Orchestra, I couldn't do it."

CHRIST CHURCH STILL IN USE IN ALEXANDRIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beautiful old Christ Church in Alexandria, Va. — it stands ten miles from the White House, down the Potomac — will be packed Sunday, February 22.

It's the birthday of the resolute Virginia gentleman who became the Father of the American Republic, and it's the church where "G. Washington" worshipped.

His pew is still there, as he used it, a square enclosure in the Colonial manner so that part of the family sat with their backs to the pulpit. His silver nameplate marks the pew door.

Message Recalled
Washington left a message in his farewell address on September 17, 1796, about the relation of politics and religion.

He remarked then:
"Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of patriotism who should labor to subvert these great pillars of human happiness, these firmest props of the duties of men and citizens. The mere politician, equally with the pious man, ought to respect and cherish them."
"Let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion."

Washington was a vestryman of the parish in pre-Revolution days. Christ Church was completed in 1773. At the auction of the church pews Washington paid the highest price, 36 pounds and 10 shillings.

In the Christ Church dooryard Washington took an historic step in 1774. After services, with his neighbors around him, he publicly announced he could no longer support the British king.

His first Sunday back from the Revolution he was back in his pew at Christ Church. When he died the church's rector read the service at Mt. Vernon.

Christ Church now owns the Washington family Bible. It is shown only on special occasions.

The church has a tall, graceful steeple and is shaded by ancient trees which were saplings in Washington's day. The interior is all white, with box pews. The graceful pulpit is wine-glass shaped, flanked on each side by a beautiful tablet on which is printed the Ten Commandments, the Lord's Prayer, the Apostles' Creed and the Golden Rule.

For many decades in the church's early history it was custom for the President of the United States to attend on the Sunday nearest Washington's birthday. President Wilson and David Lloyd George, prime minister of Britain, worshipped there one Sunday after the first World War. President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill attended New Year's Day services in 1942.

THIEVES IN SUPERMARKET
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Check-out girls in a chain grocery store here are becoming used to holdup men. Recently, just before closing time, a "customer" with an armful of vegetables dropped his purchases on the counter and then showed the cashier a gun. It was the second time in less than a month the store had been held up. The robber had the girl put vegetables and cash in a paper bag. Then he calmly left the store with more than $1,000 in the sack.

Stamp News

By SYD KRONISH
The Associated Press
WHEN NEW STAMP ISSUES are sold at post offices throughout the world many collectors purchase large quantities in hope of finding part of a sheet with an error on it. Such a find would be a rarity and therefore become a valuable item. The chances of finding such errors however, are very slight.

But last December in Bury, Lancashire, England, a schoolboy did discover such a rarity. The stamps were the new Queen Elizabeth issue.

The youngster, on being served at the post office counter, noticed that one corner of a sheet of 2½-d stamps was not properly printed. He calmly asked the clerk for the whole sheet and received it from the unknowing counterperson.

Immediately the boy went to a stamp firm in Manchester and sold the sheet for a large sum of money. And now the stamps are part of a display on exhibition at the National Stamp Exhibition in London. The entire show had 20-

TO COMMEMORATE the 50th anniversary of composer Hugo Wolf, Austria has issued a special 1.50-schilling stamp, reports Edwin Mueller. The stamp, in steel blue, bears a portrait of Wolf and his dates, 1860-1903. Wolf composed many German "lieder" which are favorites of concert singers. The adhesive was designed by Prof. Vinzenz Gorgon.

IN CONTINUATION of its "Famous Berliners" series, the Western Zone of Germany has issued three new stamps. The 5-pfennig blue shows a portrait of Otto Lilienthal, aeronautical engineer and pioneer of the airplane in Germany. The 15-pfennig violet depicts Rudolf Virchow, pathologist and political leader. The 30-pfennig deep purple illustrates Max Planck, physicist and professor.

LIECHTENSTEIN'S fourth set of stamps showing paintings from the gallery of the Prince of Liechtenstein has arrived in this country, reports the New York Stamp Co. The 10-rappen green shows portrait of a young man by an unknown master. The 20-r khaki illustrates St. Nicholas by Bartholomaeus Zeit-blom. The 30-r violet depicts St. Christopher by Lucas Granach, the elder. The 40-r blue pictures Leonhard, Duke of Hag, by Hans Kuhnbad.

A SERIES of seven new airmail stamps depicting Israel landscapes will be issued gradually during this year, reports the Israeli ministry of transport and communication. The first stamp in the series is a 1,000-pruta dark and light green adhesive. It shows a site of Tel Aviv — Jaffa (old Jaffa). In the foreground is a swaying palm tree and in the background horizon is a transport plane. The entire series has been designed by G. Hamori of Tel Aviv.

A 25-MARKKA blue stamp has been issued by Finland to mark the 100th anniversary of the temperance movement in that country. The design shows a man and woman holding a torch.

MRS. R. HETZEL IN SEMIFINALS

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Lancaster Country Club's Mrs. Roger E. Hetzel tees off in the semifinals of the Women's Central Pennsylvania Golf Tournament today following her victory in the opening round of yesterday's match play.

Mrs. Hetzel, medalist in the tournament, defeated Mrs. J. M. Dyson of the Valley Country Club, Hazleton, 4 and 3, to advance to today's play.

The former Central Penn champ got Mrs. Dyson two down on the outgoing nine and then picked up more holes coming home to knock her opponent out of the tourney and end the match on the 15th hole.

Another former champ in this event—Betty Fehl of Reading — will also be competing today in semifinals after eliminating Mrs. Thadeus Owings of York, 4 and 2.

In the lower brackets of the championship fight, Mrs. Lynn Creason of the Colonial Club of Harrisburg, defeated Rosa Owings of York, 4 and 3, and Anne Rutherford of Carlisle edged out Venetia Gerhart of Colonial, 3 and 2, to move into the semifinals.

Expert Says Covered Bridges, "Hallmark Of Rural America," Will Disappear In Ten Years

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
HARRISBURG (AP) — Covered bridges — one of the hallmarks of old rural America — may disappear from the Pennsylvania scene within 10 years, a state bridge builder said today.

"Real honest-to-goodness carpenters built those old spans, but they can't last forever," said L. A. Porter, bridge engineer for the State Highways Department. He said rotting old timbers, particularly in the joints, will cause removal of most of the bridges — many of them more than a century old.

The real downfall of the covered bridge began with the advent of the automobile age, Porter said. Many of the bridges couldn't take it. As automobiles, and particularly trucks, grew in size the number of covered bridges diminished.

175 State-Owned
Highway department records listed 175 bridges of this type under state maintenance in Pennsylvania as of Jan. 1. How many others still exist under county maintenance is not known here. It may be five or even 10 times that number, Porter said.

In 1952 alone, the number of state-maintained covered bridges fell off by 21. Those remaining are on strictly rural routes, where traffic is light and travelling speeds ordinarily low.

Only really large covered bridge remaining spans the Delaware River — the state's most navigable body of water. Little known except to area residents and Upper Delaware tourists is the bridge connects Portland, Northampton County, with Columbia, N. J.

Quarter-Mile Bridge
The Portland bridge—more than a quarter mile long—is maintained by the Interstate Bridge Commission, with headquarters at Trenton, N. J.

The date of construction of many Pennsylvania covered bridges is unknown, but of those listed a five-ton structure over the West Branch Brandywine in Chester County is the oldest. Highway department records date it at 1807. It connects Pocopson and West Bradford Townships.

State records list another bridge over the Tulpehocken Creek, Berks County, as having been built in 1834. Adams County has the next oldest in state records—a span over the Conewago Creek — date 1836.

The newest bridges on the state

Red China Cargo Is Sold At Auction

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The U. S. government was paid $278,271.43 at an auction here for cargo seized as it was en route to Red China. Bidders came from over the country, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii. The seized goods, with a declared value of $654,000 and estimated value of $900,000, included medical supplies, scrap steel, dyes and automobile tools. The sale was made to pay wharf demurrage charges and storage expenses.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Alpha Omega Waits is unemployed but he isn't worrying about getting another job. The 57-year-old former Tinker Air Force Base worker explained he had worked at 75 different trades in 39 years, working at least 30 days at each.

"No doubt it's hurt me, moving around a lot," he said. "I've books, both dated 1910, are both in Greene County, one over Chambers Run in Aleppo Township, and one over Coon Run, in Springhill Township.

The story of the covered bridge in Pennsylvania is typified by one formerly at Mill Hall, Clinton County, Porter said.

"The bridge was built in 1816 for $3,000—guaranteed to last six years," he said. "We removed it finally in 1928—The bridge, like other covered bridges, did its job well."

COSTLY FIRE AT WHITTIER, ALAS.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Fire and explosions destroyed millions of dollars worth of military installations and supplies last night at Alaska's main military port of Whittier, 72 miles southeast of here.

The rampaging, wind-blown flames in less than four hours destroyed three new warehouses, two docks and other buildings. Reports here and at Seward but not confirmed by the military said that a quantity of ammunition blew up.

Cause of the fire was undetermined and two unofficial versions were given. One said that a forest fire in adjacent timber swept into the town. The second said a boiler in one of the warehouses blew up to set off the blaze.

PINT-SIZE BELFRY
WHEATLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Christian Church's 600-pound bell was too heavy for the belfry. A construction company gratuitously removed the 69-year-old bell and put it on a pedestal in the church yard. Rings just the same.
